Want to strike at the Deep State?
Take this information, and run with it.
--
The French telecommunications company "Free" hosts a massive amount of Child Pornography on their servers that is being trafficked all over the world through the darknet [examine: hadl10G-0(.) free(.)fr]*
In order to fight the dark, you must turn on the light.
Expose their hiding places. Root them out.
Fight the REAL fight.

*link is purposefully broken with parentheses

(Note: broken link is to the ftp server for those anons who want to map it out and monitor traffick through it in order to better understand what is being shown; it is not, in any way shape or form, a link to any illicit material.)

This is a fight for public awareness.
Take the information I provide, and spread it.

Become the loudspeaker.
Raise your voice.

I am giving you everything you need to deal REAL blows to your enemy with your own two hands. All you have to do, is burn brightly. You don't need technical expertise to know that I am telling you where they hide.
Just help shine the LIGHT.

Together, you and I will overcome them all

FTP is file transfer protocol.
It's what you use to transfer files to a website.
Basically what our friend is asking is for anons to take a look at the FTP and begin mapping all the connections that can be found.

Woah, so this is a big development. I remember this story from a few months back...

Xavier Niel hacked computers for French intel when he was a teenager. Niel is a computer savant apparently. And is close with Macron.
>Xavier Niel, 52, a tech entrepreneur and co-owner of Le Monde newspaper, also said that he spied on the computers at the Renault motor group for the internal intelligence service, known at the time as the Directorate for Territorial Surveillance (DST). The service, now called the DGSI, wanted to learn about hacking techniques, which were new at the time, he said

On 28 May 2004, Xavier Niel was indicted and detained for a month for alleged procuring and misuse of company assets, which occurred in several sex shops in which he was a shareholder. On 30 August 2005, a Nolle prosequi was pronounced for the procuring part of his indictment, while on 13 October 2006, he was given a 2 years suspended prison sentence for the misuse of company assets

And he's married into the Arnault family, who owns Louis Vetton. Big player in French 'fashion' pedophile scene

Whoever is behind this "E" account is just a grifter trying to make money like "Q" does from 8kun following.

He keeps saying things like "stay the course". I've done studies on people who claim to be psychics, and they use the same methods we see here in order to convince people that they are able to predict things happening. It's really simple to convince people that you're an insider and that you have this knowledge, because humans are inherently curious and can also be very superstitious. The obvious goal here is to create a following, then sell merchandise, and profit from it.

"E" is just a business, nothing more.
